Maximize valuable R&D tax credits without the extra effort

Research and development (R&D) tax credits are a great way to save your organization money. Whether you are a small-to-mid size business or a large enterprise, if you invest in qualified research activities, you may be able to reduce income tax liability or payroll tax liability.

However, the eligibility and documentation requirements to complete are stringent and complex. You need to perform a study identifying, documenting and supporting eligible expenses incurred in conjunction with qualified R&D activities, including contract research, supplies and internal wages. There are also risks of costly Internal Revenue Service (IRS) penalties and/or interest if activities and expenses are not eligible or properly identified and documented.

Complete R&D tax credit solution backed by years of experience

ADP SmartCompliance® has deep domain knowledge to help organizations of every size and type identify and capture the information needed for the R&D study. ADP will provide the final study and assemble the supporting documentation needed to help capture the R&D tax credits your company may be eligible to claim.

Save time and reduce your risk of penalties and fees with a more efficient and effective process to document, confirm eligibility and claim the R&D credit. ADP’s tax professionals work with most major payroll systems, so you can take advantage of our R&D tax credit and payroll expertise regardless of the systems you have in place today.
